

ORAL HISTORY TOPICAL TIMELOG

Includes interviews that are not on the Urban History Database connected to InterClipper. If you wish, you may listen to any interview by request. If a transcript is available, you may request that as well. It will not be possible to create clips of interviews not in the Urban History Database, although you may do so in Adobe Audition if you are conversant with that software. Nonetheless, you may find it useful to access additional interviews to quote in your research paper. This timelog will also serve as your guide to citing oral histories in your research paper. The proper Chicago Manual of Style endnote format, using 304001 as an example is:

Henry J. Loconti, interview by James Calder, March 21, 2006, Euclid Corridor Oral History Project.
