ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This exhibition and publication would not have been possible without the support and encouragement of numerous individuals and institutions. The Ohio Arts Council provided financial support and a very important vote of confidence, especially when the project was still in the research stage. Many thanks are due to Susan dePasquale, The George Gund Foundation, The Cleveland Foundation, and The Kulas Foundation provided much needed and very appreciated basic support; The Martha Holden Jennings Foundation partially funded the educational component of the project. Thanks also to the many corporations, businesses and individuals who expressed their faith in the project with financial support.

Kudos go to the Cleveland Artists Foundation’s Board of Trustees for their participation and support for the project. Special thanks to Nina F. Gibans for her constant encouragement and participation, to William Busta for his expertise in grant proposal writing, to Ellen Galmitz and Juliann Weber for their guidance of the benefit party and Helen C. Biehle for her layout and design capabilities. A fabulous job was done by Zita Rahn in coordinating this project: from interviewing artists, locating works of art, contacting donors and community members, speaking on behalf of the project, and conducting Advisory Committee meetings – we are grateful for her flexibility, initiative and innovative solutions to many of the problems we overcame in bringing this project to fruition. Staff support for this project was wonderful: thanks to Madeline L.Cargill for coordinating public and media relations and contributing to community-based fundraising efforts; to Sandy Richert for generously providing public relations support, advice and much needed contacts; to Mary Koster and Barbara Messner for secretarial assistance and proofreading. The research and writing for the biographies of the artists by Helen C. Biehle and Sheila N. Markowitz contributed greatly to the publication. Of course, without the expert contribution of the editor, Ursula Korneitchouk, all of this would not have been properly showcased; for her wonderful job of editing this publication we are very appreciative.

To all those who have helped make this project a reality we extend our heartfelt gratitude:

At Cleveland State University: Dr. Claire Van Ummersen, President, Cleveland State University; Dr. A. Harry Andrist, Vice Provost and Dean, Graduate Studies and Research; and Dr. Glending Olson, Interim Dean, College of Arts And Sciences for their support for this project on behalf of the University. Many thanks also to Dr. John Hunter, Chair, Art Department and Robert Thurmer, Director, Art Gallery for hosting this exhibition and for their participation on the curatorial committee as well as their help and support for the entire project. Thanks also to the members of the University/Community Committee: Dr. Laurel Lampela, Chair; Dr. Aileen Ajoottan; Dr. David Cariss; Masumi Hayashi; and the entire faculty and staff of the Art Department. Special thanks to the Art Gallery Staff: Jennifer Yates, Project Assistant; Timothy Knapp, Assistant to the Director; Gallery Assistants Ellen Bible, Dina Deskins, Laura Harasyn, Lora Zborowski; Volunteer Interns Barbara Henry, Gala Loarca; and Docents Beth Maynor, Catalina Kiss and Marlene Wurm.

At The Butler Institute of American Art: Dr. Louis Zona, Director, whose early interest, support and commitment were essential to the project.

At Riffe Gallery: Mary Grey for her enthusiasm, interest and support.

At The Western Reserve Historical Society: to Samuel W. Black, Associate Curator for African American History, for curating the photography portion of the exhibit and publication and for his participation on the Curatorial Committee. The assistance of Kermit Pike, Director of the Library, and Ann K. Sindela, Reference Supervisor, in obtaining loans and photographs is appreciated.

At Karamu House: to Margaret Ford-Taylor for the generous participation of Karamu House in the Elmer W. Brown/William E. Smith exhibit in October, 1995 and for their loans of work and photographs to this exhibit and publication. Thank you to Cleo Bell Ferguson for serving on the Curatorial Committee and for her generous help. Our thanks also to Skully Black and Justin Dennis for their help with the exhibit at Karamu House.

To R. Kumasi Hampton, SOHI ART in Cincinnati, Ohio, for generously sharing information, works of art, and photographs of many of the artists included in the exhibit. He has been an invaluable help in obtaining works for the exhibit that have not previously been shown in Cleveland. We are very appreciative of his interest and support for this project.
To the June Kelly Gallery, New York, for providing information about Hughie Lee-Smith and for arranging the loan of Mr. Lee-Smith's work to the exhibit and publication.

At Cuyahoga Community College: we are grateful for the assistance of Joanne Liebow in Public Relations, Richard Karberg, Professor of Art and member of the Curatorial Committee, and Joan Damankos, Gallery Director, Metro Campus.

At The Cleveland Museum of Art: the encouragement and support of Dr. William Robinson, Assistant Curator of Modern Art, and Mark Cole, Curatorial Assistant, is appreciated. Thank you to Dr. Jane Glaubinger, Curator of Prints and Drawings and Sabine Kretzschmar, Curatorial Assistant, for information and advice on Cleveland printmakers.

To the Afro-American Historical and Cultural Society Museum and Icabod Flewellen for the loan of photographic negatives to the exhibit and publication.

At Cleveland Public Library: thanks to Ruth Hadlow, Head of Children's Literature Department, and Alice Loranth, Head of Fine Arts and Special Collections Department, for artist information, photographs and loans to the exhibit.

To Alfred L. Bright, Professor of Art, Youngstown State University, appreciation and thanks for his early encouragement, support and participation on the Curatorial Committee.

To Richard Moore and Laura Sherman of The Bonfoey Company, thanks for assistance and advice in framing the photographs for the exhibition.

To Brian Pierce for generously contributing his services photographing most of the works pictured in the book: thank you so much.

We would also like to acknowledge the research of Laura Hilbert.

Many others have given us generous encouragement and they are: Elmer Buford; Kathleen Cerveny at The Cleveland Foundation; Joseph Erdela; Deena Epstein at The George Gund Foundation; James L. Harris, Jr. and James P. Fallon, III from Sunoco Company; Northeast Ohio; Leslie King-Hammond, Dean of Graduate Studies, Maryland Institute; John Koch, Vice-president, Charter One Bank; Bracy E. Lewis, Vice-president, Bank One; Dr. Kathy Curnow Nasara; Rotraud Sackerlotzky; and Herbert Strawbridge, Director, The Kulas Foundation.

We would also like to thank the artists who are honored in the exhibit and book, their families and friends; their willingness to share information about themselves, their lives and careers has been very helpful. In many cases these persons are also lenders to the exhibit and this is deeply appreciated.

To Roger Collier and The Collier Printing Company, our deep appreciation for their advice and help. Their patience and expertise were essential in producing this book.

The Cleveland Artists Foundation is very grateful for all the encouragement and help we have received from the community and we wish to thank everyone for being so supportive.
