Authors

MARK BASSETT holds a Ph.D. from the University of Missouri, where he studied biography. With Victoria Naumann, he is co-author of Cowan Pottery and the Cleveland School (Schiffer, expected in spring 1997). Before the book sees publication, Bassett expects to move to Cleveland, where he hopes to teach and continue his research on American ceramics.

SAMUEL W. BLACK is Associate Curator for African American History at the Western Reserve Historical Society in Cleveland, Ohio. He has a M.A. in African Studies from SUNY, Albany. Black has curated a number of exhibitions including African American Photographers of Cleveland from 1887 to 1965 and Carter G. Woodson: The Vision of African American History.

RUTH DANCYGER has a M.A. from John Carroll University, Cleveland, Ohio, 1966. She has published four monographs on Cleveland artists and her biography appears in the current issue of Who’s Who of American Women.

GLADYS HADDAD is Professor of American Studies at Case Western Reserve University, Cleveland, Ohio, and holds a M.A. and Ph.D. from that university. Haddad is author of Ohio’s Western Reserve: a Regional Reader and Anthology of Western Reserve Literature. She is founder and director of the annual Western Reserve Studies Symposia.

CURLEE RAVEN HOLTON has a M.F.A from Kent State University, Kent, Ohio. He is Assistant Professor, Lafayette College, Easton, Pennsylvania. His work is in the permanent collection of universities and museums. He has exhibited widely in group as well as individual shows and has published numerous articles and catalogues.

RICHARD KARBERG is Professor of Art/Humanities at Cuyahoga Community College, Cleveland, Ohio. His M.A. is from Case Western Reserve University, Cleveland, Ohio, and Stetson University, Dehand, Florida. Karberg is the author of several articles relating to the history and architecture of Greater Cleveland. He has exhibited and received awards from the Cleveland Museum of Art. His photographs are in the permanent collection of that museum.

GERALDINE WOJNO KIEFER received her Ph.D. from Case Western Reserve University, Cleveland, Ohio in 1990. She is Visiting Assistant Professor at Kent State University, Kent, Ohio, and has lectured frequently at universities in the Cleveland area. She is the author of several books and articles.

RICHARD KLEIN received a M.A. from John Carroll University, Cleveland, Ohio, in 1973 and a Ph.D. from University of Akron, Akron, Ohio in 1983. His academic research and publications focus on architecture and history of Cleveland. Klein teaches at Lakeland Community College, Cuyahoga Community College, and is Adjunct Assistant Professor, Levin College of Urban Affairs, Cleveland State University.

ROBERT SALTONSTALL MATTISON has earned an M.F.A. and Ph. D. from Princeton University and is currently Professor and Director, Art Department, Lafayette College, Lafayette, Pennsylvania. Mattison has published books, articles, and exhibition catalogues on a variety of subjects.
VICTORIA F. NAUMANN graduated from Concordia College, Seward, Nebraska, with a degree in English and Art. She is Curatorial Associate at the Cowan Pottery Museum, organizes an annual Cowan Symposium, edits the Cowan Pottery Journal, and co-authored a book on Cowan Pottery with Dr. Mark Bassett.

H. BARBARA WEINBERG is Curator of American Paintings and Sculpture, The Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York. She received her Ph.D. in 1972 from Columbia University, New York. Weinberg has published numerous books, monographs, and journal articles on a variety of subjects such as Thomas Eakins, John Singer Sargent, and the phenomenon of Parisian study by nineteenth-century American painters. Her most recent major publication is an exhibition catalogue, American Impressionism and Realism: The Painting of Modern Life, 1885-1915 with Doreen Bolger and David Park Curry. She is sought after as a lecturer.

HELEN WEINBERG teaches literature and art criticism at the Cleveland Institute of Art and is currently working on a book about the iconography of self in American painting.

MARIANNE BERGER WOODS is an independent scholar with advanced study at the University of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. She has a M.A. from Case Western Reserve University, Cleveland, Ohio. She is a member of a number of professional associations and is a Smithsonian Associate. Woods curated and published the catalogue for Stitches in Time: A Legacy of Ozark Quilts in 1968 which earned an Award of Merit in the American Association of Museums' publication competition.